

Playful Research in Smart Textile

In exhibition are represented experimental works of ten young design artists. Playful and experimental works represents new ideas and projects in field of smart textile. All projects are focused on practical application solving relevant topics to society. Works reveal the changing image of design combining it with new, smart technologies in daily consumer products through textile. Participants are united by ArchInTex network, which is based on interdisciplinary research in architecture, interaction design and textile fields. Participating artists:

Viktorija Sokolovskaja (Lithuania), Kristi Kuusk (Holland), Marjan Kooroshnia (Sweden), Eunjeong Jeon (Holland), Tonje Kristensen Johnstone (Sweden), Delia Dumitrescu (Sweden), Linnéa Nilsson (Sweden), Martin (M.) ten Bhömer (Holland), Jyoti Kalyanji (New Zealand), Karen Marie Hasling (Denmark).

Viktorija Sokolovskaja (Lithuania), Vilnius Academy of Arts

Kristi Kuusk (Holland), Eindhoven University of Technology

Marjan Kooroshnia (Sweden), The Swedish School of Textiles, University of Borås

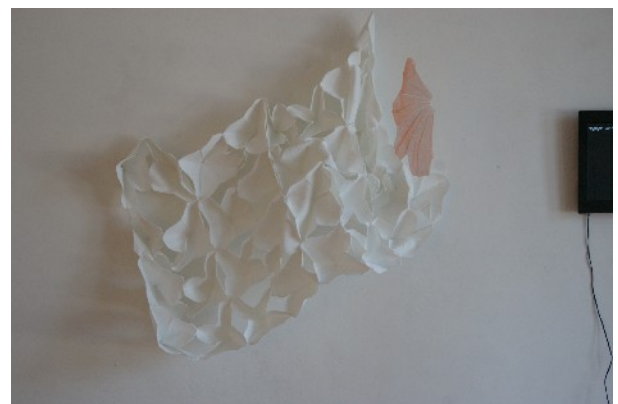

Eunjeong Jeon (Holland), Eindhoven University of Technology

Tonje Kristensen Johnstone (Sweden), The Swedish School of Textiles, University of Borås

Delia Dumitrescu (Sweden), The Swedish School of Textiles, University of Borås

Linnéa Nilsson (Sweden), The Swedish School of Textiles, University of Borås

Martin (M.) ten Bhömer (Holland), Eindhoven University of Technology

Jyoti Kalyanji (New Zealand), AUT University

Karen Marie Hasling (Denmark), Kolding School of Design

